

Call for 2017 Master's Programs in Chinese for International Students

1. Introduction

The University of Chinese Academy of Sciences (UCAS) is a higher education institution, mainly focusing on graduate education. Its predecessor, GUCAS (the Graduate University of Chinese Academy of Sciences) was built in 1978 as the first graduate school in China. UCAS accepts international students through 16 UCAS schools and over 100 institutes of Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS). See here for detailed information about UCAS faculties and CAS institutes.

Master's programs commonly last for 2-3 years. Certificates of graduation and degrees will be awarded to those who have met the requirements of graduation and degree conferment. Master's programs are mainly taught in Chinese or bilingual in Chinese and English, with only a few programs taught in English.

2.3 Admission Process

(1) Find an Eligible Host Supervisor Affiliated with UCAS Faculties or CAS Institutes

Applicant who meets all the eligibility criteria above may contact an eligible supervisor of UCAS faculties or CAS institutes and send the hard/soft copy of his application documents to the supervisor. See here for information of supervisors.

(2) Get a Host Supervisor's Acceptance

The supervisor checks and evaluates the applicant's academic ability according to the admission regulations of UCAS and/or the institute. Two or three experts might be invited to conduct a video/telephone interview with the applicant. Written examination can be taken if necessary. The supervisor then makes a decision as whether to accept the student by making comments and signing on the supervisor's comment page of the admission application form and submits all the necessary documents to the institute/faculty if to accept him (The supervisor's comment is also needed in the scholarship application form).

(3) Gain Faculty/Institute Approval

The application will be reviewed by the faculty or institute to decide whether to accept the applicant. If to accept, the faculty/institute should complete the comment page of the admission application form and send the stamped application form along with all other application documents to UCAS International Students Office.

(4) UCAS Makes the Final Review and Prepares Admission Documents

UCAS prepares the admission and visa application documents for eligible applicants after final review. The final results of evaluation meetings of scholarship applications would be announced once the expert panel has made decisions.

2.4 Application Time:

December 1, 2016 – May 31, 2017.

For those who apply to UCAS for scholarship, please submit the above admission application documents along with scholarship application form before the scholarship application deadline.

3. Visa Application and Registration

UCAS will send Admission Notices and Visa Application forms to the admitted students.

The admitted student should take his personal passport, Admission Notice, Visa Application Form (JW202/ JW201), and original Form of Physical Examination Record for Foreigners as well as other original documents of physical examination to the Embassy or Consulate of the People's Republic of China, and apply for a student visa (X1/X2visa). Please keep the original Admission Notice and Visa Application Form (JW202/ JW201) which are needed for registration and residence permit application. Please do not enter China visa-free or with other types of visas other than X visa.

The admitted student should register at the place indicated in the Admission Notice, and should register on the assigned date. Otherwise, students should apply to UCAS for early or late registration.

4.2 Scholarships

● Chinese Government Scholarship

The Chinese Government Scholarship covers many programs, including Bilateral Program, EU Program, AUN Program, PIF Program, etc., to sponsor international students and scholars to study and research in Chinese universities. The scholarship offers fee waivers of admission application, tuition, health insurance, on-campus accommodation, etc. Please refer to the website of the China Scholarship Council (<http://www.csc.edu.cn/Laihua/>) for detailed introduction, qualifications of applicants and application procedure.

UCAS is one of the Chinese Government Scholarship universities. Eligible applicants may apply to the China Scholarship Council with recommendation from related national official departments and Embassies or Consulates of the People's Republic of China. The scholarship application usually starts in November and ends in the following April. Due to the different deadlines in various countries, please check for relevant information in time. The International Students Office of UCAS will offer pre-admission notice if needed.

Applicants may also apply with UCAS recommendation (see <http://englishucas.ac.cn/>). But this is only for a small number of excellent international students who are not currently studying in China.

● UCAS Scholarship for International Students

The UCAS Scholarship for International Students offers full scholarship for international students to pursue master's degrees at UCAS. It provides tuition fee waiver, health insurance, living allowance and on-campus accommodation. Please refer to the UCAS website at <http://englishucas.ac.cn/> for more information.

5. Very Important Notes

(1) The applicant cannot apply to more than one institute/faculty or more than one supervisor.

(2) Please choose the discipline and research field cautiously and submit your application after a careful discussion with the expected supervisor. Once admitted, any application of yours will not be accepted for the change of discipline or supervisor due to a previous lack of consideration.

(3) All the above supporting documentation should be in English or Chinese, or otherwise notarial translations in English or Chinese are required.

(4) A lack of application documents or unsatisfactory documents will not be accepted and none of the documents will be returned regardless of the application status.

(5) Please DO NOT send any of your application documents directly to the International Students Office of UCAS.

(6) Please be noted the deadlines for scholarship programs and that for admission application are different. The former is usually earlier than the later one.

(7) One can apply for more than one scholarship programs but once awarded by one of the programs, he will lose the qualification for other programs successively.

(8) Chinese Government Scholarship does not request for application processing fee, while UCAS Scholarship for International Students Programs requests for it. Application processing fee is non-refundable.
